Abstract

A new giant cave-dwelling species of planthopper of the family Meenoplidae (Fulgoromorpha) is described from the Tsingy de Bemaraha National Park in western Madagascar, with information on its distribution and ecology. As the new species could not be placed in any of the previously described genera, a new genus is established. This is the first record of a cavernicolous meenoplid from the Afrotropical Region, and the second cave-dwelling Fulgoromorphan species from Madagascar. It is also the second example of island gigantism in the Fulgoromorpha from Madagascar.

Une nouvelle espèce géante de Meenoplidae (Hémiptera: Fulgoromorpha) provenant d'une grotte du Parc National Tsingy de Bemaraha est décrite de Madagascar. Des informations sur son écologie et sa distribution sont apportées, ainsi que sur sa position taxonomique. C'est la première mention d'une Meenoplide cavernicole de la région Afrotropicale, et la seconde espèce cavernicole de Fulgoromorpha de Madagascar. C'est également le second exemple de gigantisme insulaire chez les Hémiptères.

The Altmetric score is one measure of the quality and quantity of online attention that this article has received. You can read about how Altmetric scores are calculated here.

This article scored 151.50

The context below was calculated when this article was last mentioned on 30th June 2013

Compared to all articles in Journal of Vertebrate Paleontology

In the
99%ile

Ranks
2nd

So far Altmetric has tracked 259 articles from this journal. They typically receive more attention than average, with a mean score of 8.9 vs the global average of 4.7. This article has done particularly well, scoring higher than 99% of its peers. It's actually the 2nd highest scoring article in this journal that we've seen so far.

All articles of a similar age

In the
34%ile

Ranks
505th

Older articles will score higher simply because they've had more time to accumulate mentions. To account for age we can compare this score to the 221,676 tracked articles that were published within six weeks on either side of this one in any journal. This article is in the 34th percentile - i.e. 34% of its contemporaries scored the same or lower than it.

Other articles of a similar age in Journal of Vertebrate Paleontology

In the
99%ile

Ranks
1st

We're also able to compare this article to 11 articles from the same journal and published within six weeks on either side of this one. This article has done very well, scoring higher than 99% of its contemporaries.

All articles

In the
99%ile

More generally, Altmetric has tracked 1,937,419 articles across all journals so far. Compared to these this article has done particularly well and is in the 99th percentile: it's in the top 5% of all articles ever tracked by Altmetric.

Preparando o Manuscrito para o Periódico

- Leia as Instruções para Autores e siga todas elas.
- Resumos devem ser escritos na terceira pessoa e não devem conter referências. Saber escrever um resumo é importante. Ele não deve ser igual à introdução ou às conclusões!
- Certifique-se de que todas as referências citadas no texto aparecem na lista, e vice-versa.
- Explicite o significado de qualquer sigla utilizada. Lembre-se dos leitores internacionais.
- Confira gramática e escrita de palavras cuidadosamente.
- Tenha cuidado ao escolher o título. Lembre-se de que outros pesquisadores podem encontrá-lo através de mecanismos de busca ou vê-lo apenas em mensagens de alerta.
- Se solicitado, sempre apresente palavras chave.

Abstract

Looking at Brazilian economic discourse, in this article, we look at how mathematization of economics has advanced in the country in the last three decades. For this, we have classified into several categories all articles published in three major Brazilian economic journals from 1980 to 2012. The results show that there is a significant increase in the number of articles that include mathematical models and/or statistical methods over time.
